CURTIS B. CLOVIS, GRISWOLD.

There are few citizens of Cass county who are more popular, or whose wide popularity is founded on a more substantial basis, than Curtis B. Clovis, the well known attorney and efficient clerk of the courts. It is a pleasure to know that he is a native son of Iowa, born in Dallas county, August 22, 1874. His parents, Martin J. and Carrie N. (Clary) Clovis, were born in Pennsylvania and Maryland respectively. Although a farmer, the father was a man of good business ability, and combined with his agricultural operations quite profitable dealings in the implement trade and in the real estate and insurance business. He came to Dallas county in 1869, later settled in Polk county and removed to Cass in 1879. In the following year be became a resident of Griswold, where he still resides, having established a lucrative business in real estate and insurance. On March 8, 1906, he had the misfortune to lose his wife, who had become the mother of three sons and one daughter, all of whom are living.

As his family name implies, Mr. Clovis is of French extraction, although, through the many generations who have lived in the Eastern States, the stock has become thoroughly Americanized. His grandfather, Jacob Clovis, was, like his father, a native of Pennsylvania, but, unlike him, remained upon his farm in the Keystone State, and failed to absorb the broad and democratic atmosphere of the West.

Our subject was but five years of age when the family settled in Griswold, and that town has been the scene of his physical, educational and professional development. In its thorough schools he laid the groundwork of his education, and afterward pursued a course at Simpson College, Indianola. After leaving college he engaged in the implement trade with his brother; but his active mind induced him to adopt the legal profession, and in 1897 he entered the Iowa College of Law, at Des Moines, to finish a course in which he had already made considerable progress as a private student. Graduating with the class of 1898, Mr. Clovis was admitted to practice in May of that year, and subsequently was authorized to appear before the Federal Courts. He began his professional career at Oakland, Pottawattamie county, where he remained for one year. In 1900 he located for practice at Griswold, and, besides engaging in the work of his profession, assisted his father in his real estate and insurance business. In the fall of 1904 he was elected to the position of Clerk of the Courts of the County. In the fall of 1906 he was re-elected for a second term, at the expiration of which it is his intention to resume the practice of his profession.

In 1901 Mr. Clovis was united in marriage to Pearl G. Salisbury, a daughter of James Salisbury, of Griswold, and they have one child—Paul C. A Republican in politics, a member of the Methodist Church and a Mason in high standing (Blue Lodge degree), as well as affiliated with the K. of P., Mr. Clovis' position in the community is one of unusual prominence and of bright promise.

9/10: Homeowners Fail To Take Advantage of Government Refinance Plan

Last spring, the US government launched a housing relief program, designed to help 7-9 million homeowners, but so far only 85,000 homeowners have used the program to refinance.

Many homeowners mistakenly think they are not eligible. If you are a homeowner and you haven't looked into refinancing recently, you may be surprised at how much you can save.
